Mail to:

NSSIA

P.O. Box 567

Chesapeake Beach, MD 20732

Make check or money order payable to NSSIA.

Note: Applications received without payment will not be processed. Not all pages of this application need be submitted.

Note: Within two weeks of submission you will be notified about a mandatory one hour online orientation and self study kickoff session. This is not the formal class.

For the Surf Dog certification, you will be contacted regarding further requirements

Note: NSSIA indorsed instructor training may be acceptable for instructor experience.

Note: There is an additional classroom fee once you complete the surf or SUP self study. Upon receipt of this application, the NSSIA will allow you access to our instructor's manual and email you the self-examination, and a liability release to be signed and returned. The examination is keyed to the instructor's manual. You have up to 6 months to complete the self study, or up to one year upon request. When the self study examination and release are returned, and all reference letters have been received, you will be provisionally certified until such time as you can attend a formal NSSIA certification class. It is strongly encouraged that you complete the self study course before attending the classroom course. Classroom courses are taught on-line and at various locations and by individual master level instructors throughout the year and include an additional charge.

Recertification does not require a re- examination. Formal classroom training requirements for non- US instructors are determined on a case by case basis. If you are currently certified by another internationally recognized organization the classroom portion of this certification can be waived.

Surf and/or SUP School Owners Note: You must complete the individual NSSIA instructor certification program before your school can apply for NSSIA school accreditation or the NSSIA insurance programs.

Per the instructions below, on a separate sheet or using the template that will be emailed to you, provide a detailed record of employment/instruction activities, certifications, or attach information as indicated. Also, include any NSSIA training (location, date, etc.) that may be relevant.
